Physician Executive Fellowship

The WellPoint Physician Executive Fellowship has been designed by industry-leading physicians in medical management as an innovative, academic fellowship program that will provide broad administrative medical experiences for future physician executives in collaboration with accredited dual-degree MD programs across the nation.

Anthony Nguyen, MD, MBA, FACP
Senior Vice President, Medical Director
WellPoint Comprehensive Health Solutions

Anthony Nguyen, MD, MBA, is Senior Vice President and Medical Director for WellPoint. In his current role, he oversees all medical management for Commercial, Medicare, and Medicaid members. Dr. Nguyen oversees over 3,000 WellPoint associates, including physicians and nurses that directly engage in carrying out our mission of affordable, quality health care.

In his previous role, Dr. Nguyen was Vice President, Medical Director for WellPoint's Consumer Business Unit. He was responsible for developing innovative care management programs that meet the medical and social needs of this population.

Dr. Nguyen joined WellPoint in 2005 with extensive managed care experience. He previously was a partner physician for Kaiser Permanente and served as Vice President of the Medical Staff, Orange County, CA. Dr. Nguyen is a Fellow of the American College of Physicians and is board certified in Internal Medicine. He continues to practice medicine as a hospital based physician.

Jeff Kamil, MD
Vice President, Senior Medical Director
Commercial Medical Strategy and Operations

Dr. Kamil joined Blue Cross of California as medical director in 1997. During his tenure, Jeff has been responsible for quality operations and medical management. Jeff currently is the Senior Medical Director for WellPoint's Consumer markets nationally.

From 1988 to 1997, Dr. Kamil enjoyed a senior management career with Prudential HealthCare, one of the nation's largest companies providing managed health care, PPOs and group insurance. He was medical director of Southern California Operations and then went on to serve as Senior Vice President of Prudential Western Operations from 1995 to 1997. He developed a pharmacy program, implemented a closed formulary program and developed and oversaw the utilization management and QI programs.

A board-certified pediatrician, Dr. Kamil has also served as medical director at Hawthorne Community Medical Group and in clinical practice as a Hawthorne Medical Group pediatrician and Pediatrics Department head.

2009/2010 Program Fellows Physician Executive Fellowship

Omar Latif, MD
Physician Executive Fellow
WellPoint Comprehensive Health Solutions

Omar Latif M.D. joins WellPoint from the management consulting firm of McKinsey and Company. His tenure at McKinsey included diverse experience in the payor-provider and pharmaceutical sectors. Omar's projects ranged from re-launching a pharma client's core therapeutic product to developing and implementing overhaul of a large integrated delivery network.

He attended Harvard University and during that time won a Nobel Foundation scholarship enabling him to travel to Stockholm and attend the 1994 Nobel Prize Ceremonies. After his M.D. degree from Stanford Medical School, he completed the rigorous Osler Internal Medicine Training Program at the Johns Hopkins Hospital. Omar was involved in a post-doctoral Gastroenterology fellowship program at UCLA before choosing to join McKinsey. He is Board Certified in Internal Medicine, maintains an active California Medical License, and continues periodic work as a hospital-based physician.

Omar has had experience practicing medicine in a variety of settings—from large academic medical centers to Kaiser clinics. His international exposure includes work as a physician in Singapore's healthcare system at Hopkins' international division, a refugee health coordinator for the International Red Cross in Tanzania (stationed on the Rwandan border), and a consultant for a large Canadian healthcare system.

Omar is happily married to Randa, who is currently a physician at UCLA Medical Center. They are proud parents of a 10 month old son. The family enjoys international travel (their last trip was trekking in Borneo) as well as Southern California hikes. Omar also loves kayaking, in spite of invariably being outpaddled by his wife.

2009/2010 Program Fellows Physician Executive Fellowship

Oldapo (Dapo) Tomori, MD, MBA
Physician Executive Fellow
WellPoint Comprehensive Health Solutions

Dapo joined WellPoint as a Physician Executive Fellow in July 2009. He has had diverse professional experiences across Clinical Medicine, Health Policy, Health Systems Management, and the Biopharmaceutical industry.

Most recently, he worked at Eli Lilly and Company in neuroscience product development and marketing, where he was engaged in developing the value proposition and market access strategy for Lilly's Neuroscience franchise. In that role, he actively collaborated with both private and public payers. He worked with Lilly's Business-to-Government group to develop innovative healthcare solutions and partnerships with some State Governments to improve medication adherence and manage healthcare system costs.

From 2003 to 2005, he was awarded a National Health Service International Fellowship in the United Kingdom, where he worked as a Consultant Psychiatrist with the Hertfordshire Partnership NHS Trust.

Previously, he was on the faculty and clinical staff at the University of Michigan and the University of New Mexico Medical Schools, where he was an Assistant Professor of Psychiatry. At the University of Michigan, he was the co-director of the Community Psychiatry program and served as Medical Director of Lenawee County Community Mental Health Center. In New Mexico, he was responsible for developing strategic Public-Academic alliances and worked closely with the State Department of Health on access to care initiatives, including a state-wide telemedicine network and Native American outreach programs.

Dapo has an MBA degree from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology Sloan School of Management. He also studied International Health Policy at The London School of Economics and completed residency training in Psychiatry at the University of Michigan. He obtained his M.D. degree from the University of Ibadan, in Nigeria. He is Board-Certified by the American Board of Psychiatry and Neurology.

He enjoys travel, meeting people, and international affairs. He also loves horses and all things equestrian.
